The VOE Network proudly presents the Denver Peak Academy in their very first AALAS workshop. Participants will discover how the Denver Peak Academy instilled a culture of change and full Lean deployment in such unusual areas as a Greenhouse, a Fire station, the Denver Animal Shelter, the Denver Zoo and more. Along the way workshop attendees will participate in several interactive exercises showing the power of visual key performance indicators and demonstrating how data collection doesn’t need to be complicated. Attendees will also learn where the Denver Peak Academy has failed, and why the old saying “one size doesn’t fit all” is truer than most realize.

The 3-hour workshop will be an educational and fun morning filled with laughter, inspiration, and learning.
